

For additional information contact:

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Chuck Thompson
JLCooper Electronics
310-322-9990 • FAX 310-335-0110
www.jlcooper.com

El Segundo, CA - USA – (February 19, 2007)

JLCooper Electronics will exhibit a host of new Control Surface and Interfacing product developments at NAB 2007, in Las Vegas – April 16-19.

New products include MCS-3800XL - Media Command Station, EclipseCX – Color Correction Controller, Gangway16 – Gang Roll Switcher, eBOX io – GPI Iso/Relay Interface, MCS2 USB – Media Control Station and SoundChest2 – Audio Cue Controller.

JLC will also be debuting upgrades to it's MCS-ClipShot (VDCP Server Automation Control), MCS-3000 Series Software for OSX – including support for MCS-Spectrum and MCS-Navigator with Final Cut Pro, MCS3/MCS3 SP Software for Final Cut Pro, Macro Software with Icon Designer for Windows for use with KeyShot, RackShot and MCS-Quickshot, and ES-SloMo-Gangway interface for low cost control of up to 16 machines.

Visit JLCooper's new NAB location in the North Hall- N3114.

JLCooper Electronics is a twenty-six-year-old company that designs and manufactures a complete line of control, synchronization, interfacing and automation products. JLC successfully works with leading companies in a variety of OEM and custom engineering relationships. Thousands of customers in television/radio broadcast, audio/video production, sound, lighting, aerospace, education, scientific research, medical imaging, and others rely on JLC products every day.

JLCooper products are sold through factory representatives, distributors and dealers worldwide.

###